

Forgotten Victory

The Final Campaigns of 1918

Saturday 27 October and Sunday 28 October 2018

CALL FOR PAPERS

The British Commission for Military History (BCMh) is organizing a conference on the final campaigns of the First World War in association with the Western Front Association (WFA) on 27/28 October 2018. The Conference venue will be in central London.

Proposals for short papers on aspects of the armies' experience and preparation for the 1918 campaigns are invited. Keynote addresses will be given by Professor Gary Sheffield and Dr Jonathan Boff.

Proposals for individual 20-minute papers or multi-paper panels on military aspects of the War are invited. Themes may include, but are not limited to:

- New operational and tactical perspectives
- Economic and industrial impacts
- Home Fronts
- Command and leadership
- Weapons and Technology
- Organisation and Training
- Morale and Medical
- Airpower, Armour and Artillery
- The Military Legacy of 1918

Proposals that move beyond the British and Dominion Armies are particularly encouraged.

The conference is being organised by Dr Jonathan Boff, Professor Peter Simkins and Dr Dan Whittingham.

Please send your proposed title with a 200-word abstract and a 100-word biography to Dan Whittingham d.whittingham@bham.ac.uk, by 30th April 2018.

Papers will be considered for publication in the BCMh's pioneering Open Access, peer-reviewed journal British Journal of Military History. Enquiries about the administrative aspects of the conference should be addressed to the Secretary General of the BCMh Mr Andy Grainger secgen@bcmh.org.uk

Conference registration is expected to open in Spring 2018.

Keep up to date at our website (<http://www.bcmh.org.uk/event/save-the-date-2728-october-2018-conference-on-the-hundred-days-1918/>)

